Estes Park Y. W.
Delegates ReportGirls Give Description of Park and History of Summer Encampment.

The girls from our College who attended the encampment of the Y. W. C. A., at Estes Park this last summer have given us the following reports:

August 16 we left St. Joseph and arrived in Denver, Aug. 17, at 9:30. From here we went in a steamer bus going thru Longmont and Big Thompson Canyon, arriving in Estes Park at 4:30 that afternoon.

On entering the park, at the left we saw the men's lodge; the assembly, where the general sessions were held; and the administration building which was the social and business center of the entire camp. It was a business center in that it contained a store, the post office and information bureau; a social center in that here the girls gathered to write letters home and to sit and lounge for a good social time.

Next came the dining hall in which practically four hundred girls could be seated at one time. Last but not least in line was the doctor's lodge where each girl must pass a physical examination before she was allowed to take part in hiking or athletics.

At the lower right half of this circle of buildings were the girls' cottages, about thirty-five in number. The circle seemed to form a unit in itself, completely shut in by the Rocky Mountains. Just over the hill are the homekeeping cottages which are rented out to families for the entire summer season. Beyond these are the boys' and girls' dormitories.

This conference ground is one of the six in the U. S., which are controlled by the Board of Directors of laymen. It contains 535 acres and has an altitude of 7800 feet. The grounds are beautiful as well as sacred, because here so many have made their life decisions.

When we went to our first meeting in the general assembly we were given the following schedule for our week's work.

8:40-8:55—Morning worship.

9:00-9:50—Classes on "The Principles of the Kingdom of God."

10:00-10:50—Classes on "The Progress of the Kingdom of God."

11:10-12:00—Addresses on Our Common Faith.

12:00-12:30—Committee Meetings.

Christmas Toys to be Made in Manual Arts Department.

The Manual Arts Department of the Demonstration school have started a most interesting project. The students will make toys for Christmas in real factory style.

The Department will be divided into three classes with a foreman over each. The first will be the Engineering department. Here the students will have a chance at original designing, drafting, estimating and planning. The cost of the raw material will be recorded here.

The second department will have to do with the production and shop work. The first step will be the rough cutting, then copy sawing and jig sawing, smoothing, assembling and finishing.

The third department will be the shop cost. In order to have some idea of the cost of the labor the following system has been devised: For promptness in getting to class 25 points are allowed, from which will be deducted 5 points for poor workmanship and 10 points for breakage or ruination. Each point will be allowed to represent one-half cent. In this manner by adding the cost of the raw material as it left the first department to the labor as figured by points and changed into cents you can have some idea of the cost of the article.

Each foreman will be responsible for his department. He must know the value of the article as it leaves his shop and must be held responsible for the workmanship. One of the most valuable lessons to be gained by this new system is that of responsibility and attention to details.

If the work progresses nicely and a great amount of it is turned out, a Christmas sale will be held when all can have an opportunity of obtaining these toys at reasonable prices.

Have You Had Your Examination?

Dr. Hobbs reports that the students are not making appointments for physical examination as rapidly as they should. Every student should have reported for examination during the fall quarter, and it is necessary that this shall be done early next quarter. The students must co-operate with Dr. Hobbs in improving the general physical welfare of the College, and they should realize the need and value of physical training.

Public Health Control will be offered again next quarter. This class will also deal with advanced physiology. A course in high school physiology will be offered.

A Course in Farm Accounting to be Given in Winter Term.

Seated here in the very center of the agricultural section of the country, the College is now in a position to help the farmer to introduce some system into his business. Farming is no longer a slip-shod, hit or miss proposition, but it has become a real business and consequently business methods and organizations are becoming more and more important to the successful farm operator. No man can afford to harvest his wheat with a cradle, or to cultivate his corn with a hoe because science and invention have presented him with more progressive methods. Neither can he now afford to go from year to year without an exact account on his profits and losses and a practical estimate on future operations.

To help the farmer more carefully and intelligently manage his business, the Commercial department will offer a course in Farm Accounting at the winter term, beginning November 30. This course will take in the principle of business accounting, accounting as adapted to the farmer, farm cost accounting, planning and installing farm accounting systems, and explanation of income tax reports.

This course will be of great value to anyone expecting to become a farm manager, or anyone closely associated with farm life. It will also benefit anyone who is preparing to teach in rural schools.

The course is open to any student having completed a bookkeeping course sufficient to give them a knowledge of debt and credit. It is open to all Juniors and Seniors without any prerequisite course and in some few cases, to others by special permission. The course will have four recitations per week and requires eight hours of preparation.

Here and There Among the Colleges

In-the-State.

The Bulldogs of the S. T. C. at Kirksville lost their first game of the season, Nov. 5, at Cameron to Missouri Wesleyan.

Hon. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of Education addressed the Southeast Missouri Teachers' Association, Saturday morning, Oct. 30. Dr. Claxton took as his subject, "The Value of an Education in the Production of Wealth."

The Teachers of the College at Cape Girardeau met the Springfield S. T. C. eleven on the home field Nov. 12.

An impressive service was held in the chapel at Park College, Parkville, Mo., when a military funeral was held for Jesse McCoy, a Parkville boy, who served thru the war, and died in Germany.

Eddie Bohn, left half back on the Missouri School of Mines eleven died in a St. Louis hospital as a result of injuries sustained in a game with the Warrensburg Teachers College team at Rolla Saturday, November 6. Bohn was the star of the Rollas' team and he was a senior in the Rolla School of Mines.

The Warrensburg Teachers suffered a defeat of 17-0 by the Rolla Miners at Rolla, Nov. 6.

A Pilgrim Festival was held Friday evening, Nov. 18, at the Warrensburg College. The guests were requested to come dressed as Puritan characters.

The University of Missouri is heard of quite frequently in the literary world thru the productions of former students as well as graduates. Eugene Field was one of these, while Homer Croy is another. Mr. Croy's second novel, "Turkey Bowman," has recently been published. This with his first novel, "Boone Stop" are studies of boyhood in the middle west.

Mr. Croy says in a letter to his publishers: "Go ahead and write anything about me you want—I have so lived I have nothing to fear. Tell 'em I was born in Missouri, just south of the water tower." That water tower is the one at Maryville, Mo. Mr. Croy is a graduate of the Maryville High School.

Dr. Frederick C. Hicks, former professor of history and economics in the Missouri University, has been elected president of the University of Cincinnati to succeed Dr. Charles W. Dabney.

Mrs. L. W. St. Clare-Moss, for nineteen years president of Hamilton College, Lexington, Kentucky, has retired as president of Christian College. She will hold the position of President emeritus and will be actively engaged in conducting the College.

Mrs. Moss has been succeeded by Edgar D. Lee, A. M., and B. S. in Ed.

Of the sixty-four Rhodes scholars selected from the United States this year, two are from the University of Missouri. Corwin Edwards, son of Dean G. D. Edwards of the Missouri Bible College, was selected by the Rhodes scholarship committee in this state. The other Missouri student is Joseph T. Hunt of Fort Smith, Ark., who was selected by the Committee in Arkansas.

Drury College recently completed a campaign in which the permanent endowment fund was raised from one-fourth to one million dollars.

Out-of-State.

Yale University began its two-hundred and twentieth year with few effects of the war period visible. A statement from the University estimates the freshman class at eight hundred students and the total enrollment as thirty-five hundred.

The Ohio State University expects the enrollment for this year to exceed 8,000. The University plans to have a million dollar stadium that will seat 63,000 persons completed by 1922.

Dr. Emma Drake, a representative in the Idaho legislature, and a well known speaker among the schools of Idaho, addressed the students of the College of Idaho, on the subject, "Myself."

Mark Twain, noted Missouri humorist, was accorded a niche in the Corridor of the New York University Hall of Fame by the 101 electors of that institution. Besides the great humorist five other famous men and one woman were accorded places in the colonnade. They were: James Buchanan Eads, engineer; Patrick Henry, patriot and statesman; William Thomas Green Morton, physician; August Saint-Gaudens, sculptor; Roger Williams, preacher and founder of the state of Rhode Island; and Alice Freeman Palmer, teacher.

Mark Twain, who was voted on by the 101 electors under his true name

An unique gala event known as Gypsy Day is held annually at the Northern Normal and Industrial School at Aberdeen, S. D., and it was observed this year Nov. 6. The event is made the home coming for all former students and alumni of the school. All who participate in the festivities discard the conventional ways of civilization and for the day enjoy the freedom of the Romany life.

An elaborate program is prepared for the day. The crowning of her Majesty, Queen of the Gypsies; the parade; the carnival with all the side attractions; the football game, in which victory is one of the traditions of the day, afford ample opportunity for the display of school spirit and general merriment. Prizes for the best costumes, floats and other features are offered by the business men who co-operate with the school to make the Gypsy Day a success.

The occasion is picturesque and fantastic with the college campus a scene of a brilliant panorama of flashing colors of the Romany Tribe.

Assembly Notes.

The first student program for the year was given at the Assembly, Tuesday, Nov. 16, and was one of the most entertaining we have yet had. The College orchestra also was present for the first time at any assembly. A reading by Mary Marshall and a song by a girls' chorus in charge of Miss Margaret James, were the other two features of the program. Part of the time was devoted to singing by the student body.

The program was as follows:

"Il Traovitor,"
"They're Off,"
"Officer of the Guard,"
College Orchestra.
"The Mansion"—Reading—Mary Marshall.
"Come Where the Lillies Bloom"—Girls' Chorus.

There were only twenty-five students in the east that rendered this program. There are two hundred and fifty others just as capable. From this, it is easy to see that the College could have a good assembly every week without drawing on outside material, if it were necessary. We enjoy the talks from the outside all right, but let us have more chances to appreciate the talent around us.

Ernest Daniels, a former student of S. T. C., attended the Association in Kansas City, Nov. 11-13. Ernest is teaching Manual Arts in the Liberty High School. He is also coaching the football team.

Luther DeMoss spent the week end Nov. 11-15 at his home in Stanberry.

Sophomores Have Party.

The Sophomores assembled Tuesday evening, November 9, in the College Library to enjoy their long planned party. Most of the girls wore aprons and some of the boys did too. Others of the boys wore overalls since it was to be an apron and overall affair.

The tables were cleared away leaving a large open space encircles by chairs. The entertainment for the evening consisted of the games: "I sail my ship," "Going to Jerusalem," "Poor Pussy," "Fruit Basket," which were entered into whole-heartedly and were immensely enjoyed. Later in the evening the guests amused themselves by dancing.

The party was made up of Sophomores, their guests, and members of the Faculty. About forty people were present.

For refreshments, were served hot chocolate, mahogany cake and ice cream.

Mary Margaret Richey went to Tarkio, Wednesday, Nov. 17 to attend the wedding of her cousin, Miss Anna Trout, and John Saberton Long of New Orleans, La., which took place at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Trout's grandparents.

Mary Margaret played Lohengrin's wedding march for the ceremony.

Naomi Brown, Eva Montgomery, Mayme Dooley, and Grace Spellman, former students were seen at the Association.

Annette Simmons and Frieda Shaffer, 1920, of Kansas City Schools attended the Convention.

Jessie Murphy and Esther Foley spent Nov. 11-14 with Jeannie Blacklock at her home near King City.

Friday, Nov. 12, they attended a very interesting program given at the Karr school. Miss Flossie Tunnell, a former S. T. C. student, is teacher at that school. The proceeds of the boxes which were sold after the program amounted to fifty-seven dollars.

Gladys Bookman will leave Nov. 26 for Nevada, Mo., where she will be bridesmaid at the Cooper-Meyers wedding which will take place Nov. 28. Miss Cooper and Miss Bookman were school mates when the Bookmans lived in Nevada.

Dr. Keller reports short visits with LaVora Hudson, 1920, who is teaching at New Point; Joe Ferguson and Ed Malotte from Plattsburg and Lawrence Zelliff, B. S. 1920, Stanberry at the Association. Mrs. Sims, County superintendent of Clinton County was also there.

Mrs. J. R. Brink has been very ill at her home on Normal Avenue but is greatly improved now.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

Mathematics.

The courses for next quarter will include the usual high school courses in Algebra and Plane Geometry. College courses will include Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, Algebra and some phase of higher work in alalyties or some applied work in Geometry or Trigonometry.

English.

In the Better English contest last week, the 10 o'clock English class won over the 11 o'clock class by six points. The members of the classes received so much benefit from the contest that they have decided to watch each other and hand in a list of all errors for the rest of the term.

The English Department will offer a course called “Literature of the Bible” the winter quarter. This is a two-hour credit course under Mr. Swinehart. Miss Winn will have new classes in Browning’s poetry and the English novel.

Manual Arts.

Mechanical drawing, Bench work and machine work will be given next quarter.

The class in Farm and Auto-Mechanics will not be offered again until a more satisfactory place can be provided for it. The weather does not permit road experiment for this term. Several of the mechanics from the garages have visited the class and given some valuable information to the students.

Education.

Rural Methods 4b will be offered by Miss Arnett during the winter quarter. Rural methods 4a was offered by Dr. Keller during the fall quarter.

Physical Geography.

Advanced Physiography is offered the winter quarter for the first time this year. The course is open to all students who have had High School Physical Geography.

Commercial.

Introductory Accounting will be offered in the Commercial Department this winter. No bookkeeping is required before one can take this and it is open to all. It is a regular recitation with no laboratory and hereafter will be required before the student can take up the rest of the commercial course.

The course is not to teach bookkeeping and accounting but to acquaint the students with them so they will be able to manage their business more intelligently, systematically, and profitably. Special emphasis will be laid on the reading and interpretation of common reports, figures and financial statements. Another purpose of the course is to make the student capable of forming a just opinion as to the efficiency of his employees or to get his own idea of the financial standings of various firms with which he wished to do business. The class will also get a general knowledge of profit and loss, and receipts and expenditures.

The commercial department is planning for a general extension of its scope and many new courses are to be added from time to time. Among these are advanced accounting, accounting systems, cost accounting, money and banking, business finance, short survey of insurance, labor problems, office management, marketing, salesmanship and commercial advertising.

Latin.

The courses in Latin which will be offered next quarter are: “Sallust’s Catiline,” “Sallust’s Jugurthine War,” “Cicero’s Essay on Friendship,” “Caesar,” and the second term of beginning Latin.

Physical Education.

The Physical Education department is offering a number of new courses for the winter quarter. Several students have already signed up for aesthetic dancing. This class will recite three times a week and will play basket ball the other two periods of the week. Two courses in general gymnastics and apparatus work will be offered. Miss MacLeod will have charge of the girls’ division while Mr. Rice will have the boys’.

Theory of Coaching of Athletics, course 151, will be offered if a sufficient number of students ask for it. This will take up the coaching of different games and Miss MacLeod will be held at Warrensburg the fourth and Mr. Rice will have charge of Friday in March and a prize of $15 this. The usual courses, general gymnasium for women, folk dances and plays and games under direction of Miss MacLeod will be offered again.

Mr. Rice is obtaining very good results from his Demonstration School Gymnasium class for boys. The children show a great interest in the work.

Agriculture.

The field of young alfalfa on the school farm along the east walk is growing nicely. It was planted September 1st and it is now large enough to withstand the winter weather.

Last year two fields were planted, one about the last of August and the other September 27th. The first survived the winter. The latter froze out because of having a late winter. On the school farm late summer sowing has proved more successful than spring sowing. Alfalfa gets a good start in the fall and is more able to resist the weeds than the spring sown alfalfa. Dry weather also is more likely to affect the spring sown plants.

Home Economics.

Miss Anthony is offering the following new courses during the winter quarter:

Sewing 62.

Foods (Batters, Doughs, and Meats)

Foods (High School course.)

The Foods class 71a has been making a very interesting study of the luncheon the past few weeks. Salipeon of Orange and Pineapple

Miss Mary Woolridge, an assistant in the department was a guest at the luncheon.

In like manner, Ada and Bessie Dinsmore managed the luncheon given on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at which time they served the following menu:

Iced Pineapple

Crumbed Veal Cutlets

Mashed Potatoes

Biscuits

Butter
Cheese and Celery Salad

Vanilla Ice Cream

Inter Collegiate Debating

We have entered the oratorical contest between the State Teachers Colleges, —Cape Girardeau, Warrensburg and Springfield. The contest will be held at Warrensburg the fourth quarter at 8 o'clock once a week on a day to suit the convenience of the students. Any college student doing standard collegiate work is eligible to enter the course. Credit of one-half hour will be given for it. All interested in debating should arrange to take this course as it is an excellent opportunity for development of oral speech.

Faculty Members Help at School Fair

Miss MacLeod and Mr. Swinehart spent Tuesday, Nov. 16 at Blanchard, Ia. They attended the community meeting and fair, which was held about three and one-half miles south of Blanchard. The fair was a combined meeting between Emporia and Hazel Grove schools.

After a magnificent dinner, the entire group, both young and old, under the leadership of Miss MacLeod, played numerous games.

Needlework, manual training, farm products, and domestic science articles were exhibited. The judging was done by Mr. and Mrs. Slaughter of Tarkio, Mo. Mr. Slaughter is county field agent for Atchison County.

In the afternoon a joint program by the two schools was given. After this Miss MacLeod gave a very interesting talk on ‘Community Health’ and a demonstration on ‘Recreation for All Ages.’

Mr. Swinehart spoke on ‘New Community Life.’

Anna Douthirt, a former student of S. T. C., teaches at Hazel Grove and Thelma teaches at Emporia.

A Boost for the College.

In a conversation between Mr. H. A. Miller and Mr. I. I. Commack, Superintendent of the Kansas City schools, Mr. Commack remarked that

“the teachers we were fortunate enough in securing from the State Teachers College at Maryville have all been uniformly satisfactory.”

This is a compliment from a big man in the school world and is worth passing on.

Y. W. Notes.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held at 10 o'clock Wednesday at the College building. Devotional exercises were conducted by Margaret Remus. A reading “In the Nazareth Shop” was given by Miss Dow. A talk on the “Big Sister Movement” was given by Miss Helpig. A business meeting followed the program.

The Stroller.

The Stroller, a sader but a wiser student, after a two days vacation resumed her studies. She is sad because she has blisters on her feet and a crick in her neck. He is wise because she followed some of the faculty to the Teachers' Convention and discovered the fact that superior air which they display in the classroom is only assumed, for they are very frivolous away from home.

The Stroller, being a mere student, looked forward to this meeting for she intended to stay at home; sleep until nine o'clock of a morning, read thrilling stories in a big rocking chair surrounded by pillows and chocolates, smoke his pipe and wonder why the sporting page is not so interesting when one has time to read it. But her curiosity got the best of her so she strolled into the Burlington station before the early morning train arrived, to see who all were going to Kansas City. It was surprising how many of the professors were leaving their wives at home. A few days before the meeting the Stroller heard one of the students ask Mr. Swinehart if Mrs. Swinehart were going with him to Kansas City. He answered, "No 'Im going to have a good time." The stroller has since heard him say that the shows were fine.

Mr. Cauffield wished that he had taken his wife with him, for it might have saved him some embarrassment. The meeting was in full swing that night when it was announced his wife was looking for him. Mr. Swinehart began to fidget in his seat and when he left the hall he turned his overcoat collar up and cast anxious glances over his shoulder.

Mr. Leeson declares that he did not go to bed until three o'clock any night while the Teachers' Convention was in progress; and of the five faculty members rooming with him he was always the first to retire. The Stroller wonders who the other five were.

The Stroller has decided he will tell who's who at the college. Everybody else has voiced his opinion but no one has ever asked the Stroller, so she will have to give hers voluntarily. By these traits ye shall know them.

ESTES PARK Y. W. DELEGATES REPORT.

2:00-3:00—Quiet hour.
3:00-5:00—Short hikes.
8:00-9:00—Evening sessions.
9:00-9:30—Delegation meetings.

Ten days of comradeship group thinking and recreation, such was the Y. W. C. A. summer conference at Estes Park. About 12,000 girls attended these conferences held all over the United States.

Hiking was the chief recreation indulged in as there were so many beautiful places to visit. Each girl had to pass a physical examination and receive an O. K. badge before being allowed to go on the hikes. For those who were not able to take long hikes, short ones were planned.

Some of the hikes taken were: The Wigwam, a hike of 5 miles; Moraine Lodge, a hike of 3 miles; Estes Village, a hike of 10 miles; Baldpate Inn, a hike of seven miles; Long's Peak Inn, a hike of twelve miles; Teddie's Teeth, a hike of three miles; Fern Lake, a hike of eighteen miles; Odessa Lake, a hike of twenty miles. The last two required a full day. At Fern Lake the ferns grew five feet high and the lake itself looked like a green jewel. Trips were also taken by steamer ears.

At Long's Peak Inn the girls had the opportunity of seeing Mr. Miles, a famous naturalist, and his rare collections. Baldpate Inn with its seven keys was also very interesting.

The girls had the privilege of using horses whenever they wanted them. The horses seemed almost human. They would never take a step unless they were sure of themselves.

A word about the Student Council: The girls were divided into delegations, each having a delegate leader, a member of the student council, a proctor, and a recreation leader. Everything was on the honor system. The student council drew up the rules.

These experiences will long remain in the minds and hearts of all who attended because the conference brot forth all that is best in the Y. W. C. A.

The functions of the Field Councils which were appointed are three-fold:

1. Consider matters of concern to the Field.
2. Consider matters relating to
 1. The nation's Y. W. C. A.
 2. World's Y. W. C. A.

Meetings of the Undergraduate Field Representatives will be held in the early fall to frame the year's policies for the students' work in the field.

What is the student's part in this line of work?

First of all we must train ourselves more earnestly than before for world service. The colleges cannot educate us unless we do our part.

Second, we need to know each other better. Above all, students of today must be keen, open minded and universal in their interests we need spiritual power if we keep faith strong and our spirits high. The new student movements in America will mean:

1. New energy for study.
2. New fellowship among all colleges.
3. Renewed devotion to our Lord.

The conference as a whole proved to be a typical mountain-top experience for everyone who attended.

FIVE ELECTED TO OFFICES IN S. T. A.

Mr. Miller led the discussion on the "Value of the Speaking Voice". Several of Mr. Miller's former pupils were present in the public speaking department.

Miss MacLeod was very much interested in the Physical Education section. She took active part in all discussions. The health department was showing an excellent exhibit.

A few pertinent sayings of the association were gathered together by Mr. Leeson as follows:

"The project method is as old as man. It is not a cure-all. It requires more effort than ordinary methods.

"A Project may be defined as a unit of purposeful experience."

"There are four types of projects: Where one does something, where one where one wants to solve a problem, where one wants to attain some knowledge or skill. These types include practically all the work that is ordinarily done in the school room.

"There are three things growing out of unstable world conditions; a disposition to criticize and want a change, a tendency for critics to aggregate and then organize, and a tendency to demand a more democratic government."

"Everywhere external authority must be ruled from internal belief and people must not only be shown but must cultivate a capacity for understanding."

"We have to run to keep up with the spirit of progress."

"There are at least five types of democracy: religious, political, economic, social and educational."

"The audience habit is a bad disease, we must learn to entertain in ourselves if we would enjoy life."

"The quality of a person is determined by how he spends his holidays."

"We must work to enjoy leisure, and one of the prime purposes of education is to teach people how to spend their off hours."

Elizabeth Shamberger has returned to school after a month's illness.

Husky Hikers Take Another Hike.

The cold weather does not affect the "husky hikers." Thursday evening at 4:30 eight girls left the College for a short hike. They walked a distance of six miles, their destination being just three miles west of Maryville.

They gathered around a crackling bon fire and soon an excellent supper was ready.

The girls returned to Maryville at about 7:30. The hikers were: Maude Fleming and Anna Mae Gillis, hike leaders, Mary Marshall, Mabel Cook, Alice Peery, Jeannie Blacklock, Jessie Murphy and Peggy Remus.

Miss Helwig visited friends in Kansas City after attending the Convention. She returned to Maryville Sunday night.
